“ Damon will be greatly missed. He was genuinely a nice person. We would just sit around and hang out and he had so many great stories he would tell. I can't say they were all true but man could he tell a story. I would be laughing so hard by the end of most of them. I really enjoyed just being around him. I'll miss you brother!!

“ Damon went with me to Dairy Queen to get Jacob an ice cream on his birthday weekend, when he was just 4 years old. Also went fishing that afternoon and was the first time Jacob called him... Uncle Damon! I will never forget how loving he was to my children & they also, will never forget. He was and will always be there uncle Damon ❤️❤️

“ Damon stop by and the girls were coloring their hair blue and doing their nails. They convinced him to let them color his beard and paint his nails. The girls laughed and were so happy that he let them do that.

If he seen them out front when he walked by he would ask them how school was.

He would tell the girls about him riding the big wheel down the street when he was little and the things him and Tracy did as kids.

I know he is looking down watching over his mom, his friends and family.
