“ This is really late because I just found out about Georgia's death. It was a shock to say the least. We both were PT students at UK where I got to know her well. We lost contact following graduation as our careers took us in separate directions. I read all the tributes which were wonderful. None of them surprised me as I saw her soft, caring heart while training to become therapists. I do recall how she treasure her then little boy, Chris. She went thru a very rigorous academic program at UK as a single mother. She also was one of the more intelligent students in our class. She obviously touched a lot of lives during her time on earth. I was lucky to be one of them.

“ My dear sweet sister Georgia. How I miss you already. I had stopped going to church after all my sons left home. I didn't want to go alone. Georgia pestered me and pestered me to come back to church everytime she was at Head Start doing children's therapy. I went back to church. That was over 20 years ago. When I was going through a personal crisis, Georgia called me every single night for months to see how I was doing, encouraging me, supporting me, loving me. There is an empty spot in my heart but Georgia is in heaven with her Jesus and her Mother. I love you Georgia. I will NEVER forget you.

“ I have numerous fond memories of Georgia as we were childhood friends, neighbors, and classmates. Many summer breaks were filled with hopscotch, jump rope, bike rides, lemonade stands, and night tag... then lazy winter no-school days with board games, snow ball fights, popcorn, and favorite TV shows. In later years as we became teens, we turned to talks of homework and tests, our latest favorite songs, make-up, newest clothes trends, and boys. I don't ever recall Georgia saying an unkind word about anyone. I always admired Georgia for her determination to achieve her academic and career goals. I hope sweet memories of Georgia and her kind heart and disposition will bring comfort to her family and loved ones. Rest gently now friend. Your life impacted many in a most wonderful way.

“ Georgia became my daughter, Kayla's therapist at 2 weeks old. Then she became our friend. She was always willing to help in any way. She also became Bethany's therapist. She invited us to Stanton Baptist where we worshiped for several years. We have done weddings together, showers together and vacation Bible school together. She had a heart of gold just like her sweet Momma. Heaven is definitely celebrating this beautiful angel. We love you Georgia and will miss you terribly.
