“ So sorry to hear of John's passing. He spent many days at our house, when we were children, visiting with my brother Taylor. Over the years, he was always a faithful visitor to my parents and would often stop by to visit with Taylor when he was home visiting. He was a very proud father and grandfather as well. Prayers that good memories of time together will comfort you in the days to come.

I've known John most of my life and he was always a good friend. The first time I met him we were about five or six years old and he had some new cap pistols - we played cowboys and Indians until dark. They lived in an old log house on a hill on the left, right below Bethany. He was always kind, generous, fun, and I'll miss him tremendously. I wish I could have seen him more in the past few years. Rest in peace, my friend.
