“ I've thought about my Uncle Tom on an off today. An as I was going to the store earlier, I recalled a time when I was around 4. All of us kids were outside playing an Tom hollerd an said sis tie your shoe. Well you know a 4 yr old doesnt listen to well. I made a few more trips around an he stopped me an said, Gina Kaye tie your shoe before you fall an tear your self all up. I looked at him with big ole tears rolling dwn my face, I said I dnt know how to Uncle Tom. He took me over to the porch an began to teach me how to tie my shoe. That is forever a memory for me. Cause with each of my childern I taught them the same way. To thhis world it will be one less person but to us an his family weve lost a part of of our heart. How I wished I had visited more. We always seem to let the little things take up such a big place in our lifes. However I know he knew I loved him bc I never failed to tell him. Rip Uncle Tom

“ I can recall being a little girl and Uncle Lonnie babysitting for us while Momma and Daddy worked. He was almost a teenager an I had to be not more than a baby. I remember him trying to get me to eat all the food on my plate. I was so stubborn as was he, usually I wouldn't and he would say Pam Honey you win. Other times he would sing to me if I would eat . He always said I had to be one of the stubbornest kids he ever ran across. He will be missed. I love you all !
