“ I remember Marvin well since we grew up together in West Bend, KY. Many fond memories playing with Joan, Percy, and Marvin in their back yard grassy field near the little creek running by the Haggards home. Mrs. Ellen Haggard, exceptional cook at West Bend Elementary for many years, always made sure Marvin got whatever he wanted to eat! I remember the fight I lost to Marvin in the first or second grade with Mrs Allie White as our wonderful teacher I remember Marvin as strong-willed and determined. Best to family and friends in this period of bereavement. Wallace Gatewood 6/10/24

“ Mr. Haggard was like a father to me and a grandfather to my kids. He always looked after my son when he came home and engaged him in the sweetest conversations. I will miss his endless positivity and smile greeting me when I come home. Chris will miss his friendship tremendously. Sending my love and condolences to Mrs. Haggard and Travis.

“ I looked forward to seeing Marvin at the Clay City post office. We often shared mutual opinions on politics, child rearing, and a host of other challenges. He was a fine man, whom I admired and enjoyed his view on the life and tribulations of a fellow military man. I will miss his stoic attitude! John Salyer
