i only knew patrick from online, but he was my friend for well over 2 plus years, he sent my daughter a box full of Furbys one time that he won on ebay, we were always trying to figure out if my daughter was related. his love for people, animals, his friends & family are things that i remember first about him. even though we never met in real life, he was a real friend and just knowing that he is not out there taming ground hogs & raccoons, setting on his porch smoking his pipe any more saddens me. i'm so sorry i didn't find out sooner & my deepest condolences to his family.
