“ I am going to miss him so much 🥺 he was the best papaw I could ever have when I was little he spoiled me so much he was always there for me when I needed someone to talk to he would stay up past midnight with me because I wouldn't go to sleep without getting my back scratched and when we stayed with him and my granny would go to work he would fix us breakfast we loved bacon and eggs with toast he fixed us that every morning but the eggs were just a little burnt (he tried tho) lol he would always keep us from getting in trouble when granny was after us (in a funny way) he would always yell at us for standing in front of the television when he was watching western (he wasn't being mean tho) what matters the most is no matter what he always made sure his babies were happy he was so loving and would do anything to help someone in need I wish I could just give him one last hug and tell him how much he means to me he will always have a special place in my heart I love him so much and will miss him very much!! This is a picture of him and my beautiful granny together💕

“ I’m going to miss him. Even tho we had our ups and downs he was the greatest papaw. When we were little he would always help us escape from getting into trouble by my granny (in funny ways) lol. He wasn’t a very good cook neither but he tried his best lol, when we stayed with him and my granny would go to work he would always fix us eggs and bacon for breakfast but the eggs would always be a “little” burnt lol. Whenever I needed someone to talk to he was always there to listen. He would help me do anything that I set my mind too and that’s what I’m going to continue to do. He wanted me to get my school done and he wanted me to have a good future. I’m going to try my hardest to make sure that I can do what we both always talked about. He was literally like my best friend but also my papaw. He was always loving, he would even stay up until I was able to go to bed. If I had any sort of nightmare I could wake him up and he would sit in his car until I fell asleep. He would always scream at us for getting in front of his television when he was watching western (he wasn’t being mean tho). He always set in the same chair, he would always tell whoever that was sitting in the chair to move when he wanted to sit down lol. Btw I told granny that that chair will always still be his chair. He absolutely spoiled us. If we wanted to sit up front he would climb his tall self into the back seat and make sure that we were happy. Yes he had his dull moments but that doesn’t matter to me. What matters the most is that no matter what he went through he was still always there for his babies (which is us). The picture is of him and his momma💕💕
