Will always remember him thinking so much of Jarrod and bubby. He took them fishing and played basketball with them they thought so much of him. Bubby always had to run jump up in his arms and give him a big OK hug!

I did not know you, but I heard about you. There is so many mysteries that we don't know about life and death, but I know a God that is so loving and merciful that already embraced you and now you are home with Him. He knew everything about you before you were born. Christ has a purpose in everything and while we cannot understand your prompt departure, we know He can turn sadness into joy. I did not know you in life, but I will recognize you when we are together in Heaven. May your family have the assurance that you are with your Creator right now.
