“ That is sad that his children are alone now. But Winston was no saint for sure. He has another son as well that he abandoned when he was young. Nicholas Muirhead, the family even reached out to let Nicholas know of his passing but his wife couldn't mention him his obituary. Nicholas knew Winston and was very heart broken when he was a young boy that Winston left him and wouldn't come see him. But he is a grown man now and has done very well to get over him. Winstons wife Bonnie mentioned His other children and should of mentioned Nick as well, but that's ok .

“ Winston was a good neighbor, and a great friend. Danny and myself are very blessed to have met him and his family when they moved to Brandy Lane last year. It was obvious that he loved his family, and he also loved his home state Texas, because he spoke fondly of it often. Most of all he loved his Lord and savior because he told us so just a short time ago. I never heard him say a bad word, and he was always ready to go hunting with Danny because he also loved the outdoors. I already miss going in the house to put a pot of coffee on when Winston would come over to visit. He is already missed greatly, and we will continue to miss him. We will be praying for his wife and children and family in the days ahead. God bless each of you
